The sleepy bedtime approach was developed over 15 years ago while Dan Jones was working in childrens homes with children with emotional and behavioural issues. He needed to find a way to help the children sleep. He had an interest in the way people communicate due to having Aspergers and wanting to learn the skills to fit in with others. So he applied what he had learnt about how people communicate unconsciously and turned his knowledge into this approach. Since that time Dan has taught the approach to childrens home staff, family support workers and social workers, and to hundreds of parents, as well as applying the approach himself with children of all ages.
